Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

DIRECTORS HOLD ANNUAL SESSION AT LITTLESTOWN

Approximately 150 Adams county school directors and guests are attending the 61st annual convention of the Adams county school directors at Littlestown high school today. Election of two county board members and other association officers is scheduled for late afternoon.

Dr. Douglas Silverton, lecturer from Endicott, N. Y., told the directors this morning: "To reduce juvenile delinquency we must reduce the number of delinquent parents, and that can be accomplished by eliminating the delinquent idea of materialism and by establishing a spiritual idea of Christianity."

Rowe M. Martin, Biglerville, presided at this morning's session which was addressed by Luther M. Lady, president of the county board. The Littlestown high school band opened the program with a concert. Nominating and resolutions committees met at noon.

Nominees Listed
The report of the nominating committee, presented to the directors this afternoon, showed the following candidates: For county board (two to be elected), George W. Moul, East Berlin; Ralph W. Guise, Straban township; Arthur R. Buehler, Mt. Joy township; Lloyd E. Crouse, Littlestown; C. A. Wills, Fairfield jointure; Luther M. Lady, Butler township.

For auditor (one to be elected), Dr. Fred Lewis, Ardenstville, and John J. Reinhold, Fairfield.

For delegates to the state convention (two delegates and two alternates to be named), John G. Myers, Hamilton township; Russell Dolley, Hamilton township; Irvin Harbold, Latimore township; Carroll Leppo, Paradise township; Conewago jointure; Russell Durbarow, Cumberland township; George Shriver, Benderville; Joseph T. Lowe, Liberty township; Felix J. Klunk, Conewago township.

Cemetery Council Meets December 12

The annual meeting of the Fairfield Union cemetery council will be held in the parish house of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Two members will be elected to the board of directors, reports given and other routine business transacted. Interested residents of the Fairfield area are invited to attend. Dr. Norman S. Wolf is president of the council.

CODE VIOLATORS
The following Adams countians were recently arrested in York county by state police for motor code violations: Wilson Miller, Idaville, overweight, and Eugene B. Miller, Gettysburg, improper passing.

December "Heat" Sets 39-Yr. Mark

The temperature soared to 66 degrees here Thursday, setting a 39-year record for the date and making it the warmest December 6 experienced here since 1912.

Only once since that record 67 degrees in 1912 has the mercury gone above the 60-degree mark on December 6 and that was in 1916 when a high of 61 degrees was reached.

Thursday night's low was 39 degrees but by 8:30 o'clock this morning the temperature had climbed to 49.

Heavy fog blanketed many sections of rural Adams county this morning in the evening.

HEAD OF STATE LEGION WOMEN URGES MOTHERS TO GUARD YOUTH

"The youth of America is being demoralized from within," declared Mrs. W. Graydon Painter, Lewisport, Pennsylvania State president of the American Legion Auxiliary at a banquet of the four-county council of the Auxiliary Thursday noon in the St. James Lutheran church social hall.

"We mothers of the Auxiliary must be on guard constantly," she warned, "to understand our children, especially those of high school age, to know what they are doing and where they are going at all times. Foreign elements are using insidious means through our American youth to undermine our present form of democracy by encouraging dope addiction and organized immorality." Mrs. Painter pointed out that the Child Welfare program of the Auxiliary had begun an extensive study in connection with the narcotic situation and she urged the mothers to continue their cooperation with this phase of the Auxiliary's work.

$50,000 For Gifts
"Names are being received for the Veterans' Christmas box program," advised the department president, "and this year's program is much larger than last year. The Auxiliary plans to spend $50,000 for the distribution of 15,000 gifts to hospitalized veterans during the Christmas season throughout Pennsylvania. Ten hospitals will be visited December 16-22. Visitations will be made by Mrs. Painter; Jackson Dodson, department commander; Michael Markowitz, department rehabilitation chairman and Mrs. John Simmons, Anville, rehabilitation chairman of the Auxiliary.

"At present there are 49,256 members in the Auxiliary," explained Mrs. Painter. "However, to carry out the organization's child welfare, veterans', orphans' and widows' programs, the membership must be increased." The Pennsylvania state organization pledged 55,000 members. (Continued on Page 3)

XAVIER PUPILS WILL BE GUESTS AT XMAS PARTY

Mrs. John B. Hemler was named chairman of a committee to arrange for a Christmas party for the children of the local parochial school at a meeting of the Mothers club of St. Francis Xavier school Thursday night at the school. Others named to the committee are: Mrs. Paul Littleton, Mrs. Richard Cole and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy. No date was set for the party. The committee will work out details with school officials.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Joseph H. Riley, was appointed to obtain sponsors for the Christmas play to be given by the students of the school on December 20 and 21.

Named as the committee to serve breakfast this morning to children receiving Holy Communion at the regular First Friday mass were Mrs. Wilbur Knox, Mrs. Harold Culp, Mrs. Robert Neary and Mrs. Clarence Weizel.

Other Committees

Selected as the entertainment committee for the January 3 meeting of the club were Mrs. Robert Codori, Mrs. Richard Codori and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy. The entertainment committee for Thursday's session included Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. Harold Culp and Mrs. Robert Derck.

Named to conduct the annual audit of the organization's books were Mrs. James Oyer and Mrs. William Jacobs. Members named to a nominating committee to report at the next meeting were Mrs. G. Henry Roth, Mrs. Lawrence Eckert and Mrs. Charles Hemler.

The prize for the school room with the most mothers present went to the room taught by Sister Juliana. The president, Mrs. Julian Estep, presided at the meeting.

Thespians To Repeat Play This Evening

An enjoyable performance was presented by the cast of "The Apple of His Eye" Thursday evening at the Moose home on York street. The play, sponsored by the Little Theater Group of Adams county, will be presented again this evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Moose home.

Ushers for the performance were Miss Ann Haenn, Miss Meredith Derck and Mrs. H. Wayne Weagly.

While all players gave creditable performances, Leo Baker as a well-to-do middle aged farmer, Arlene Shealer as a shy young girl and Wayne Weagly were listed for special mention for the performances they gave Thursday night.

TEEN-AGERS GET PART-TIME HOME AT MOOSE LODGE

The local Moose lodge Thursday night voted to give use of its second floor meeting room as a youth center for a month's trial period.

Discussion prior to the vote indicated that members of the Moose are in agreement with the need for a teen-age center in the borough and willing to cooperate in the project.

The members agreed that "what the youngsters need most is a room that will really be their own, a place they can fix up and change around to their own satisfaction, a place where they can come and go as they wish."

Use Is Restricted
Such a need makes the second floor of the Moose home unavailable except on a temporary basis. Commitments to the Women of the Moose, need of the room for some of the Moose activities, lack of a separate entrance and use of the room by other organizations restrict the use of the room by teen-agers other than as a place to meet on certain specified nights.

Officers of the Moose are to meet with Donald Joseph, local recreation director, to work out a schedule for the nights the room will be available.

Eleven new members were accepted into the Moose lodge at Thursday's meeting and the annual contribution was made to the Adams county tuberculosis society.

Plan Kiddie Party

The annual Christmas party for children will be held Monday, December 24, at 2:30 p.m., it was announced. Junior Governor Robert Neary presided in the absence of Governor C. Lester Oyer.

A report on the outdoor home Christmas decorations contest being held by the lodge showed ten entrants so far in the event. Persons planning to place outdoor decorations at their homes who wish to enter the contest are asked to contact Moose Secretary Charles Laurer prior to December 19. Eight prizes totaling $135 will be awarded.

Remember Pearl Harbor? Yanks Recall That Tragic Day

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The one-time army private who first spotted Japanese planes moving in on Pearl Harbor is a railroad man now. Don't sing "Remember Pearl Harbor" to him. He doesn't care for the song.

His buddy, who also stared at the radar screen that tragic Sunday morning and figured something was up, now works in a telephone office. He thinks the U. S. would be "more alert" to any sneak attack today. He hopes so, anyway.

And the lieutenant who received their report of approaching planes? He's commanding the 81st airbase group in England these days. He still says he was surprised that the planes turned out to be enemy bombers on a sleepy morning 10 years ago today.

Recall Tragic Day

That's the 10-years-after story of Pvt. Joseph L. Lockard, who later became a first lieutenant; of Pvt. George E. Elliott, later a sergeant; and of Lt. Kermit A. Tyler, now a lieutenant colonel. Lockard and Elliott got out of the service long ago.

Will Officiate At AME Zion Services

The Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will be in charge of a special worship service to be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Paul's AME Zion church, South Washington street.

The regular monthly combined worship service for parents and children will be conducted at St. Paul's church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning by the pastor, Rev. J. O. Fountain, who will have as his subject, "Taking Over." Music will be furnished by the youth choir under the direction of David F. Jones, Sr.

YOUNG VETERAN, FATHER OF TWO SONS, EXPIRES
Howard Thomas Galloway, 33, Huntington township, York Springs R. 2, died at his home this morning at 1:15 o'clock.

Dr. C. G. Christ, Adams county coroner, who investigated, said Galloway had complained of feeling ill due to pains in the chest when he retired Thursday evening. His wife awoke early this morning and, upon finding him breathing heavily, summoned a physician. Mr. Galloway expired before the doctor arrived. Dr. Christ said death was due to coronary occlusion.

Mr. Galloway was a native of Adams county, a son of Farel and Carrie (Hummer) Galloway, Gardeners. He was a veteran of World War II, having served with Co. C, 47th Tank Battalion, 14th Armored Division. He received the Good Conduct medal, Distinguished Unit badge, American Defense Service medal, European-African-Middle East service medal with five bronze stars. He was a member of the Uriah Evangelical church.

Funeral On Sunday
In addition to his parents and his widow, the former, Meda Griffin, he is survived by two sons, Howard, Jr., and Richard; one daughter, Bonnie; one step-daughter, Shirley Griffin, all at home; three brothers, Robert, Idaville, and Dennis and William, both of Gardeners; four sisters, Mrs. Reuben Wolford and Mrs. Kenneth Carey, both of Gardeners; Mrs. Paul Baldasser, Carlisle, and Miss Janet Galloway, Gardeners, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Galloway, Gardeners.

Funeral services Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Idaville Evangelical church conducted by the Rev. W. C. Wilson. Interment in the Idaville cemetery. Friends may call at the Pittenuff funeral home, York Springs, Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

College Grad Will Wed Neville Girl

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hursh of Newville for the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Anne Hursh, to Frederic Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Griffin, of Abbottstown.

The ceremony will be performed at 7 p.m. Sunday, December 23, in St. Paul's Lutheran church in Newville. A reception will follow at Allenberry.

Miss Hursh is a junior at Shippenburg State Teachers college and vice president of the Day Women's association there.

Mr. Griffin is a graduate of Gettysburg college and is employed as a manager of the Penney Company store in Carlisle.

The December meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library association will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the main library on East High street. Election of board officers, following the annual membership meeting last month, in one of the important items of business on the agenda.

Baseball Shoppe open every evening until Christmas.

Reds Hint They Have Only 5,000 Yank Prisoners In Korea; Allies Can't Find Russian MIGs In Air

Seoul, Dec. 7 (AP)—A few Allied jets hunted unsuccessfully through storm clouds today for Communist MIG-15s in hopes of extending their record breaking 11 day series of victories over the Red jets.

The Reds remained safely on their bases in Manchuria.

The weather was so bad over Korea the U. S. Fifth Air Force was held to only 103 flights up to 6 p.m.

But neither rain nor cold kept Communist infantrymen from making small scale attacks at the Allies along the central front.

The Reds launched five small probing attacks shortly after midnight southwest of Kumsong on the center of the 145-mile Korean front. United Nations outposts beat back four of these attacks.

Front Is Quiet

The fifth Allied unit withdrew from its advance position in the face of the attack.

Otherwise, the U. S. Eighth Army's evening communique said, the fronts were quiet.

Low-hanging rain and snow clouds which darkened MIG alley, scene of daily U. S. jet victories, broke loose when they hit the front.

Chill rains struck the west. The slopes of Allied held Little Gibraltar and other shell torn hills turned to slippery mud.

Snow blanketed the fox holes of U. N. infantrymen perched on the towering ridges dominating the eastern front.

Can't Find Guerrillas

Deep behind Allied lines, the South Korean army tightened its hold on the 6,000 foot Shiri mountains but did not find the 1,500 guerrillas it had expected to trap.

Fifth Air Force jet pilots Thursday ran up their longest sustained run of air battles with this record claim: 33 Communist planes destroyed, two probably destroyed and 32 damaged. This included the following claimed total of MIG-15s, the Russian-type fighter jet: 22 destroyed, two probably destroyed and 29 damaged. The Fifth Air Force reported six Allied planes were shot down.

BATON TWIRLING HIGHLIGHT OF BAND CONCERT

Climaxing a one-hour concert by the Gettysburg high school band Thursday evening in the Gettysburg high school gymnasium, Misses Alta and Dawn Burg, champion baton twirling sisters from Red Lion, put on a demonstration of twirling that brought rounds of enthusiastic applause from a crowd of about 600.

Alta Burg, 17, who has won a dozen state and national titles in the last two years, explained requirements of competitors in baton twirling contests and then called the routines while her younger sister, Dawn, performed such figures as salutes, beating time, wrist twirl in three positions, figure 8, cartwheel, finger twirl, two-hand spin, passes around the back from either side and aerials.

Then Alta put on a demonstration that combined all of the figures just demonstrated with special "fancy touches" added. Dawn followed with a twirling act that included cartwheels, backstands and splits while the twirling continued through a wide assortment of positions.

Concluding the show, Alta Burg used two lighted batons in a sparkling display of her talents that included intricate juggling routines with other spectacular tricks.

Before the baton twirling, the high school band presented a one-hour concert, chiefly of march music but including Christmas numbers and a group of selections by a clarinet quartet made up of Sydney Shade, John Baschore, Ted Hay and Joyce Mehning.

Robert G. Zeigler, instructor in instrumental music in the local public schools, directed the band and introduced the star performers. The proceeds from the concert will go into a fund for new uniforms for the high school majorettes.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 7 (AP)—Communists hinted at Panmunjom today that the Reds hold no more than half of the 10,000 Americans listed as missing in Korea.

The report came from a Chinese correspondent outside the truce tent where Allied negotiators, in a move observers said is aimed at getting a truce quickly, agreed to discuss withdrawal of foreign troops before an armistice is signed. But they won't talk about it until the proper time.

Chu Chi-ping, a Red Chinese correspondent covering the armistice talks, said he knew of no war in which more than half of the soldiers reported missing were prisoners of war.

"I do not see why the Korean war would be different from other wars in this respect," Chu said.

Ready With Data

The Communist spokesman reiterated that the Red command has compiled data on Allied prisoners and will be ready with it when negotiators take up the question of prisoner exchange.

Other Red correspondents said all Allied prisoners of war are in North Korea camps and none have been taken to China.

They said all big camps are near the Manchurian border and that all prisoners have been issued warm winter clothing.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, U. N. negotiator, told Communist delegates Friday the Allies will talk about withdrawing troops from Korea after negotiators see eye to eye on enforcing an armistice and exchanging prisoners of war.

The sudden reversal of Allied policy came as subcommittee members wrangled endlessly at Panmunjom over policing a truce.

Many More Obstacles

One of the key roadblocks was Allied insistence on rotating troops and replacing equipment and ammunition. The delegates also were a long way from agreement on inspection behind the lines and on Communist insistence on building airfields during an armistice.

Until Friday the U. N. command adamantly had refused even to discuss plans for pulling troops out of Korea until an armistice is signed. Allied negotiators held the matter was political and should be taken up at a formal peace conference.

Fuss Over Supervision

There was no immediate reaction from members of the Communist subcommittee trying to negotiate a settlement of agenda item three—supervision of the truce. The delegates meet again at 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. EST Friday).

Hodes emphasized that the United Nations could not agree to the withdrawal of troops during early stages of an armistice.

U. N. negotiators asked the Communists to offer revisions in their plan for supervising the truce.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, chief Allied subcommittee member, said the U. N. command would be receptive to any suggestions the Reds might make for ending the deadlock.

College Source Says Hanson Will Retire

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, since 1923, is planning to return to private life early next year, The Associated Press said today.

The retirement intentions of the 69-year-old educator were made known today by a source close to the college, who declined quotation by name.

The college is expected to withhold

4-H COUNCIL PLANS PARTY; TO SEEK FUNDS

Plans for a social and roller skating party, to be held the latter part of January, were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County 4-H council held at the Adams County Electric Cooperative building, rear of North Stratton street.

The party will be held at the Littlestown skating rink, and will be open to the 300 members of the 4-H clubs in the county and their guests.

Plans were also discussed for a fund raising program to be held probably in connection with National 4-H week in March. Various methods of raising funds were discussed. A final decision will be reached at the regular meeting of the council in February. Funds raised through the campaign will go towards the recently purchased 4-H club home at Chevy Chase, Md. Pennsylvania has been assigned a quota of approximately $2,800.

The fund campaign may be combined with a county-wide drive for local 4-H activities, the council members said during their discussion, because of the small amount needed for the national drive.

Vive President Roy Weaver, Jr., presided at Thursday's meeting. Officers will be elected at the February meeting.

TRINITY PLANS ADVENT VESPER

A special Advent vesper service will be held at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Senior and Junior choirs of the church have prepared a musical service of old and familiar Christmas carols. The men's chorus will sing "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming." Henry Edward Fox will play a saxophone solo, "Sabbath Bells." The Junior choir will present for their carols "Joy to the World" and "Away in a Manger."

Dawson Heck will sing a "Christmas Lullaby" as a solo. He will be assisted by the girls of the Junior choir in a pantomime.

The carols "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" and "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" will be sung by the congregation.

Manger Scene Tableau

The Senior choir offers the carols, "There's a Song in the Air" and "What Child Is This." The Christmas story from the gospels according to Matthew and Luke will be read. At the offertory, the choir will sing antiphonally "The First Noel."

A tableau depicting the manger scene will be presented during the singing of the carol "Silent Night, Holy Night." The characters in the tableau are: Angel, Cecelia Yoder; Mary, Margaret Teeter; and Joseph, Richard Drees.

The service will be brought to a close with both choirs singing the carol "In Dulce Jubilo" using the organ. The organ prelude will be "A Song of the Stars" by Kinder and the postlude, "For Unto Us a Child is Born" by Bach.

B AND P CLUB PLANS EVENTS

Christmas devotions were conducted by Miss Sara Mehning preceding the monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Thursday evening at the YWCA. Mrs. Lee Hartman, president, presided at the business meeting.

The club will hold a cookie sale at the "Y" December 20 when Christmas candy and the club's new cookbooks will also be on sale. From 7:30 to 9:30 there will be a "coffee hour" for club members who are shopping. Miss Martha Stallsmith and Mrs. Carl Scheide will be hostesses.

Initiations In January
Mrs. James Shenk, service chairman, reported on dinners served to the Rotary club and on members who were ill during the month. Mrs. Floyd King, membership chairman, said new members will be initiated in January.

Mrs. Hartman reported that the Middle Atlantic conference will be held February 2 and urged members to attend. Mrs. James Clapsaddle, Miss Mary Duttera and Mrs. King were appointed as a nominating committee.

The Christmas dinner of the club will be held at Graefenberg inn, December 13. Cars will leave the "Y" at 6:15 p. m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Mary Beales on or before December 8. Fifty-cent gifts will be exchanged. The cabinet will hold its Christmas party December 28. On January 3 a every-member birthday dinner will be held. A taffy pull was held following the meeting.

The players are: Gene Melchiorre, George Chianakis and William Mann.

NEWVILLE MAN ADMITS BOGUS CHECK CHARGES

Borough police Thursday afternoon brought to an abrupt halt the check-passing career in Gettysburg of a Newville, Pa., man, who gave his name as Ernest Brown, 37.

Brown, according to police, did not meet with unqualified success in the venture which resulted in a forgery charge being filed against him today before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore.

In presenting a check for $3 at the Adams House, he started to write the signature "Dorsey Shultz" to the check drawn to his order, police said, and a waitress saw it and tore up the check.

Two Attempts Fail
Two other checks failed to get by, according to police. One was drawn on the Farmers Trust company of Newville, with the bank's name written over a blank check of a local bank. This one, for $8, Brown attempted to cash at the Sixeas appliance store, Chambersburg and South Washington streets.

Brown allegedly tried to cash another check for $11 at both the Gettysburg National and the First National banks. On the one he tried at the Sixeas store he forged the name of Joseph H. Blessing, and on the other at the banks the name of J. G. Shultz and Son, Newville. Both names may be fictitious, police said.

Cashes One Check
Somewhere in Gettysburg Brown was more successful. Police said he told them he "found" a Pennsylvania unemployment compensation check for $18.50 on the Emmitsburg road and "cashed" it in a local store.

Arraigned this morning before Squire Bashore on three forgery charges, Brown signed pleas of guilty and was held for sentence court. He was remanded to the Adams county jail in default of $500 bail on each charge.

VFW WOMEN TO SPONSOR PARTY ON DECEMBER 19

Plans for a Christmas party to be held December 19 were formulated at a meeting of the VFW Auxiliary Wednesday evening at the post home, Carlisle street. Members may bring children to the party which will begin at 7 o'clock. One dollar gifts will be exchanged among adult guests and fifty cent packages among the children. Committees appointed to conduct the party were: Entertainment, Mrs. Virginia Lauver, Mrs. Hilda McSherry and Mrs. Ruth Harness; decorating, Mrs. Mary Fridinger, Mrs. Erma Keefe, Mrs. Ellen Oyer and Mrs. Clyde Shultz; refreshments, Miss Buehler, Mrs. Mildred Wisler, Mrs. Katherine Smith and Mrs. Bessie Smith.

District Meeting
A district meeting will be held at Mt. Wolf Sunday, December 16, at which the department president will be in attendance. A bus will leave the post home at 1 p. m. to provide transportation for members going to the meeting. Fifty cent gifts will be exchanged.

The committee in charge of the card party to be held at the home tonight is in charge of the following committee: Ruth Miller, Mrs. Pearl Wiser and Mrs. Bessie Smith. Committee members of the January 4 party are: Mrs. Katherine Smith, Mrs. Rosetta Johnson and Mrs. Margaret Toomey.

Two new members who were initiated at the Wednesday meeting were Mrs. Hazelle Kolb and Mrs. Sarah Riggs.

More Than 2,000 At Eagles' Dinner

The largest crowd ever to attend the annual dinner at the Eagles clubrooms on Chambersburg street filled the building to capacity Thursday evening. Officers of the lodge estimated the throng at more than 2,000 persons.

A turkey dinner with "all the trimmings," topped off with ice cream and cake, was served, and dinners were sent to members of the aerie who are ill and were unable to attend.

Tables in the dining room were decorated with fall flowers. Following the dinner the waitresses were presented with corsages. The Eagles used their own help to serve the dinner.

A meeting of the 45th anniversary committee will be held at the lodge Monday evening.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT TRINITY CHURCH

"Christmas and World Peace," a program prepared by Mrs. Orville Sanderson for the Women's Missionary society of the United Lutheran church, was presented by the members of the Grace Yeiser Missionary society of Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville, at a special meeting Wednesday evening at the church which was attended by about 125 women. Special guests at the meeting included members of the congregations of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, Arendtsville, and of Trinity and Flohr's Lutheran churches and the members of the Women's Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville.

Mrs. Harold M. Steiner served as narrator for the program and Mrs. Richard Trostle as reader. Others taking part included Mrs. Clark Hartman, Mrs. Cameron Hoffman, Mrs. Floyd Morrow, Mrs. Robert Schiebel and Mrs. Edward Staub.

Choirs Furnish Music
Featuring the musical part of the program were Christmas carol selections by a choir with an echoing choir at the rear of the church singing the closing verse of each carol. Piano accompaniments were played by Miss Gwen Burgoon.

Mrs. Schiebel and Mrs. Martin T. Walter poured during the tea hour which was held at the close of the program. The refreshments, which were in keeping with the international nature of the program, included coffee from South America, tea from Asia, cookies made from European recipes, peanuts from Africa and dates from Egypt.

Highlights of the evening included the decorations which were used in the social room of the church in which the meeting was held. Mrs. Edna Myers, Biglerville, who was in charge of the decorating, was assisted by Mrs. Richard Trostle, Mrs. Charles Bushey and Mrs. Schiebel. World globes, angels and choir girls were effectively placed with the fireplace as the focal point of interest.

The Biglerville Garden club will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clifford Bucher with Mrs. Charles E. Raffensperger as the co-hostess. The program is in charge of Mrs. Henry Wagner and Mrs. O. C. Rice. Sr. Members are requested to bring Christmas arrangements or other gifts, appropriate to the season, for exchange.

Discharged: Mrs. Rex Gilbert, New Oxford; Rosemary Sanders, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Roland Wilson and infant son, of Keymer R. 1; Billy Larmer, Fairfield R. 2.

Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz and Probation Officer C. Arthur Brame returned Thursday night from Lexington, Ky. The two officials conducted Frank Tipton, Silver Spring, Md., who had been arrested on a charge of illegally obtaining prescription blanks and forging names of Littlestown doctors, to the U. S. Narcotics hospital at Lexington, where he was entered for a cure of drug addiction.

Organ Recital To Be Given On Sunday

An organ recital, featuring selections on the chimes, will be presented by Harry E. Trawitz, Harrisburg, noted organist and choir director, on the Hammond organ and Maas chimes at the First Methodist church, Orrtanna, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. Richard H. L. Vanaman, will conduct the devotions of the service.

Included in the music of the evening's recital, which will be largely arrangements of Christmas numbers, will be the following selections: Prelude, "Andante," Handel; offertory, "He Shall Feed His Flock," Handel; postlude, "March Pontificale," Lemmens; "Holy, Holy, Holy," Dykes; "Jubilate," Wilson; "Melodie Celeste," Koschat; "Holy City," Adams; Christmas improvisations, "Adeste Fideles," "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear," "Silent Night," Thomas. Congregational selections will be "How Beautiful Were The Marks Divine," Cox; "O Come, O Come, Immanuel," Latin, 12th century, and "O Word Of God Incarnate," Howe.

The public is invited to attend.

County Hunter Is Fined By Protector

Nelson Fickes, Orrtanna R. D., late Thursday paid a fine of $25 and costs for the illegal possession of a wild turkey. The fine was collected by Game Protector Leo Bushman, and the costs were turned over to Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore, the latter said.

Bashore said Bushman obtained a search warrant to go to the Fickes home to look for deer and wild turkey, but found only the turkey, in the Fickes refrigerator, dressed and ready for the table.

There is no open season on wild turkey in Adams county. The bird was confiscated and given by the game protector to the Warner hospital.

Code Violation Brings New Charge

A truck driver who traveled prepared for hunting was tripped up on a game law violation Thursday afternoon when he failed to stop for a stop sign near Orrtanna. A state policeman from the Gettysburg station saw the stop sign violation and halted the truck driven by William Earl Singley, 51, of Orrtanna, Rfd. D. In the cab of the truck the officer found a loaded rifle, police said. Arranged before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore, Singley signed a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying a loaded firearm in his truck, and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

Seminary Graduate Gets New Pastorate

Rev. Robert F. Fisher, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, York, has announced in a congregational letter his intentions to resign effective January 31.

Rev. Fisher, who has served in York the past six years, said Thursday he had been elected pastor of Temple Lutheran church, of Brookline, near Philadelphia. He preached a trial sermon at Temple church Sunday.

Rev. Fisher graduated from Susquehanna university and from the Lutheran Theological seminary here in 1943.

Ex-Vet Subject For News Article

DEFENDING HS CAGE TITLISTS FACE TROUBLE

By BEN FRENCH

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (P)—Trouble is in store for Pennsylvania's defending schoolboy basketball champions as the new campaign gets under way with a month of non-league games.

Graduation riddled the ranks of many of last spring's kingpins, leaving most of their runner-ups in stronger position.

Allentown, the defending PIAA Class A state champion, has only six-foot Leroy Katz from its title-winning regulars and only two other returning lettermen. The Canaries open tomorrow night against Hellertown's District 10 Class B champs.

The state champions have one of the roughest exhibition schedules in the state as well as a full slate of games in the strong East Penn Conference. Non-league games are coming up with Kutztown, the PIAA Class B champion; Norristown and Pottstown of District 1; Swyersville, Eastern runner-up; and Reading Central Catholic, CO-PICTA Class A champion.

Parrell, the Western Class A winner which lost to Allentown, 66-55, is a little better off. The Steelers have all-star Julius McCoy and guard Ronnie Crosby back from last spring. Minus McCoy, who was injured in the WPIAL football playoff, Parrell opened Tuesday night with a 45-37 win over Toronto, O.

Swyersville Strong Again—Swyersville, Eastern runner-up last spring and regional champion the year before, again is a favorite in the east with six-foot-five Joe Holup, all-state center, sparking a strong entry.

Pittsburgh Westinghouse, second to Parrell in the west, also is expected to be another strong contender as is Ford City, which lost the WPIAL title to Parrell last spring, 61-60. Ford City opened Tuesday with a 60-46 win over Clairton.

Johnstown Catholic and Reading Catholic, co-champions of the state Catholic schools, also have been hard-hit by graduation. Reading is minus its all-star Mike DePaul while Johnstown has only one letterman.

Kutztown, the PIAA Class B champion for the past two years, has lost little all-star Ronnie Weidenhamer and was defeated Friday night by Pottstown, 64-54.

Fredonia, the PIAA Class C champion, also has lost most of its top players including six-foot-five little all-state center Charles Craig.

Defending Champs

The defending PIAA Class A district champions and runner-ups include:

District 1—Radnor and Pottstown; 2—Swyersville and Nanticoke; 3—Chambersburg and Wilson (West Lawn); 4—Bloomsburg and Kulpmont; 5—Somerset and Bedford; 6—Johnstown and Lewistown; 7—Parrell and Monessen; 8—Westinghouse and Carriac; 9—Clearfield and Punxsutawney; 10—Sharpsville and Meadville; District 11—Allentown and St. Clair.

G-BURG MATMEN BEGIN DRILLS

A squad of 25 candidates, including five veterans, has reported to Coach Jack Shainline of the Gettysburg college wrestling squad and is now busy preparing for the opening match with Haverford here on January 12. Shainline has replaced Clyde Cole as coach. Cole is now serving with the Air Force.

Jimmy Woods, 130-pound Middle Atlantic champion, heads the list of veterans. He has been held up in working out due to a head injury.

Other veterans include Jimmy's brother, Donny Woods, 123; Al Hershberger, 167; Jim Spangler, 177, and By Wagner, 137.

Up from last year's freshman squad are Ron Miller, Charles McElfish and Sam Evangelista, while the outstanding freshman candidates of this year include Earl Yost, Walt Antonelli and Jim Howard.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 7 (P)—Looks as if the Yankees were the only—or at least the first—major league ball club to show more interest in the game of baseball than in their own game receipts . . . their decision to cut down on radio and television coverage is the first sign that any of the big leaguers really want to help the minors out of their trouble.

Report now is that the Dodgers will follow suit . . . and, speaking of that "radio umbrella," how about the news umbrella that the big league clubs hang over the minors' convention? . . . You'd hardly know from reading about the real and imaginary deals at Columbus that any minor leaguers had been there.

Not After The Doe

Bob Higgins, retired Penn State football coach, was spotted by a friend walking across the campus the day the Pennsylvania deer hunting season opened . . . The friend (in spite of his gags Bob has a few) asked how come he wasn't out in the woods after a winter supply of meat. . . "Well," the Hig replied "there are a lot of people, our alumni included, who think I still am coaching football—enough of them to make it a risky business for me to be seen in the woods."

Cleaning The Cuff

Tennessee fullback Andy Kozar is housekeeper for his roommates, tackle Jim Haslam and end Vince Kaseka. Says Andy: "I'll clean up the room as long as they clean up the tacklers." . . . Walter Pederson and Dan Difuria, freshman members of the strong U. of North Dakota hockey squad, both are union bricklayers and worked on constructing the new engineering building this fall . . . obviously they'd be mortarhead to lose a game.

New York, Dec. 7 (P)—The Eastern College Athletic Conference, which torpedoed the sanity code last winter to save the NCAA, is coming up with a much stricter proposal to cure the ills of college athletics.

At least, the ECAC members will listen to Commissioner Asa Bushnell's seven-point program . . . Leave us be the first to say the danged thing won't work. . . For one thing, Asa proposes enforcement by the college presidents under an "honor system." . . . In this connection we'll just quote a gent who is closely connected with an ECAC college: "It's not quite fair to jump all over college presidents. Some of them don't know what is going on in their institutions; they depend on the dean or athletic director to keep them informed and the reports of those men have not been complete."

Asa's "students-only-and-no-pay" program sounds like the ideal of all colleges, but you can hear plenty of objections to it. . . . It that's what they want, we can offer a one-point program that would be just as effective: let each school decide exactly what it considers honest. (If any appreciable number agree, that's so much the better). . . . Then each individually would tell the ones that are obviously out of line with their ideals (and it's easy enough to learn about them): "We won't play you, chums, because we don't want you."

Ice Follies Stars Injured In Crash

Hershey, Pa., Dec. 7 (P)—Two veteran stars of ice skating collided full tilt at the climax of their high speed act in the Hershey sports arena last night and were hurt severely enough to stop the show for a while.

Pat Shanahan was carried off the floor unconscious. His partner, John Mulvey, although badly jointed too, wasn't knocked out. Both are performers in the "Ice Follies of 1951."

A crowd of more than 7,000 saw the two skaters, who have worked together for years, crash and go down as they were completing an unusually fast act known as the interlocking circle.

4 ALL-AMERICA CHOICES REPEAT FROM LAST YEAR

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Dec. 7 (P)—Tennessee, Michigan State and Maryland—the top three teams in the final poll of the season—snared the major honors on the Associated Press All-America 1951 football team announced today.

Tennessee, co-champion of the Southeastern conference and taking an unbeaten record into January 1's Sugar Bowl game, was honored with Hank Lauricella on the offensive backfield and William (Pug) Pearson on the defensive team at tackle. Ted Daffer, defensive guard on the team a year ago, is on the second team this year.

Michigan State, also unbeaten, lands two berths on the offensive team, one going to Bob Carey, the end, and the other to Don Coleman, the catlike tackle.

Maryland, unbeaten like the other two leads and booked to play Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl, has Bob Ward, a repeater from the 1950 team, at offensive guard and the 'Ndzewski brothers on the second aggregation. Edward, known as Mighty Mo, is the runner-up offensive backfield while Richard, dubbed Little Mo, is a defensive tackle.

Three others, in addition to Ward, are repeaters from the 1950. They are Richard Kazmaier, Princeton's all-everything back, Jim Weatherall, of Oklahoma, defensive tackle, and Les Richter of California, line-backer.

The teams:

Offense

Ends—Bill McColl, Stanford; Bob Carey, Michigan State.

Tackles—Bob Tonneff, Notre Dame; Don Coleman, Michigan State.

Guards—Bob Ward, Maryland; Marvin Matuszak, Tulsa.

Centers—Doug Moseley, Kentucky.

Backs—Dick Kazmaier, Princeton; Hank Lauricella, Tennessee; Hugh McElhenny, Washington; Larry Isbell, Baylor.

Defensive

Ends—Pat O'Donahue, Wisconsin; Dewey McConnell, Wyoming.

Tackles—Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma; William Pearson, Tennessee.

Guards—Ray Beck, Georgia Tech; Joe Palumbo, Virginia.

Line backers—Keith Flowers, Texas Christian; Les Richter, California.

Backs—Bobby Dillon, Texas; Al Brooks, Illinois; and Ollie Mtaosn, San Francisco.

The team was picked after the December 1 games in consultation with 11 prominent sportswriters. They had the benefit of reports from hundreds of writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Kazmaier, only repeater among the backs, already has been named the winner of the Heisman and Maxwell awards for his spectacular play this season with Princeton. He was the only returning member of Princeton's great 1950 team and little was expected of the Tigers.

Greatest Day

But Kazmaier's phenomenal play carried the team through another unbeaten schedule. The slim half-back's biggest day, and perhaps one of the greatest days ever enjoyed by a player, was against Cornell, whom Princeton defeated, 53 to 15.

That day he scored two touchdowns by rushing, carried the ball 18 times for 124 yards, attempted 17 passes and completed 15 for 236 yards and three touchdowns.

Isbell and Lauricella are triple threats like Kazmaier and were the offensive guns of their teams. McElhenny, expected to be one-half of Washington's touchdown twins, became the Pacific coast club's lone threat when Don Heinrich was hurt before the season started. In the club's 20 to 20 draw with UCLA he courted every Washington point.

He took the task of converting touchdowns in mid-season. In the defensive backfield Bobby Dillon of Texas and Al Brooks of Illinois were specialists in knocking down passes returning punts and tackling. They share these duties with Ollie Matson, the San Francisco Negro who established various collegiate records on offense but was even more valuable to his unbeaten team on defense.

The rugged 200-pounder averaged 51½ minutes of action in every game. Kazmaier is the only easterner named to the team, once the virtual exclusive property of that section.

BOWLING NEWS

In the Littlestown Woman's Bowling league, Sunset Hill Farm will oppose the representatives of Lemmon's Atlantic Service Station, and Marvin's team and the Shamrocks will meet on Monday evening for bowling on alleys three, four, five and six. On Tuesday evening the Camos will meet Kress's bowlers and the Windsor candidates will oppose Inner's, on alleys three, four, five and six. The league members will not meet during the weeks of the Christmas or New Year's holidays. In the Men's Bowling league, the Littlestown 5 and 10 team and Basehoar's bowlers will meet on Monday evening to compete on alleys one and two. On Wednesday evening The Keystone candidates and the Eagles, the VFW and Rotary and Sonny's and the Record shop bowlers will compete on alleys one, two, three, four, five and six. All teams meet at Basehoar's, North Queen street.

"Chuck" Taylor Is Coach Of The Year

New York, Dec. 7 (P)—Charles (Chuck) Taylor, first year coach at Stanford, today was named the football coach of the year in a ballot tabulated by the New York World-Telegram & Sun and other Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Taylor, who guided his team into the Rose Bowl in his first year as head coach, succeeds Charles Caldwell of Princeton. The 31-year-old tutor will receive a huge plaque at a dinner January 10 at Cincinnati during the Football Coaches' Association convention.

Of the 422 votes cast, Taylor received 162. That gave him a lead of 18 over Gen. Robert Neyland, Tennessee coach, and 36 over Clarence (Biggie) Munn of Michigan State. Caldwell was fourth.

CANNERS LOSE OPENING GAME

Biglerville high school suffered a 74-33 drubbing at Scotland Thursday night when the Cannners opened their 1951-52 basketball season.

Two rangy forwards, Carl Testa and Ron Kelly, combined to tally 31 points in sparking the Cadets to their triumph.

The Cannners trailed by a wide margin throughout and were never serious threats.

The Scotland reserves also took the preliminary game, 45-31.

Next Tuesday Biglerville will play its first home game when it clashes with Shippensburg.

24-HOUR RULE VOTED OUT BY MINOR LEAGUES

By JOE REICHLER

Columbus, O., Dec. 7 (P)—Although the minor leagues voted overwhelmingly to wipe out baseball's 24-hour recall rule, the statute will remain on the books, an informal poll of the big league clubs indicated today.

The rule, which President Frank Shaugnessy of the International league, described as "even a bigger threat to the structure of the minors than nationwide broadcasting and televising of major league games," has long been a sort point with the little fellows. Their constant cry has been that the rule robs them of their stars and kills off the attendance.

The rule allows the majors to recall their optioned players by giving only one day's notice. In this way, the parent clubs can shuttle their players back and forth at will.

By a 41-to-seven count, the minor leagues voted to toss the rule out the window. This means that a player, once sent down, must remain for the entire minor league season including playoffs. The majors, however, also must pass this amendment in order to kill the rule.

This, however, does not seem likely unless there is a change of heart between now and next Monday when the vote comes up.

Opposed By Majors

A poll of a majority of the big league clubs showed that at least five clubs in the nation—Brooklyn, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Boston—and four clubs in the American—New York, Detroit, Boston and Philadelphia—will vote against the amendment. That leaves three in the National and four in the American who are likely to back the minors, far short of the needed majority.

The minors, however, won an important point when they voted unanimously to set up a new "open" classification. This was interpreted as a tremendous victory for the Pacific Coast league which has been clamoring for higher status for years.

Naturally, Coast leaguers were jubilant over their victory for special recognition. With the approval of the majors, which was expected, they expect to apply "right away" for the "open" rank, one step higher than Triple A. At the present time there are three Triple A leagues—the International, American Association and Pacific Coast league.

The "open" class would permit the PCL to have first draft rights from lower classification leagues, raise its own draft fee from $10,000 to $15,000, enable its players to stay an extra year (four to five) and give its players the right of refusal to be drafted.

At present, the PCL is the only minor league to meet all the requirements. To move up from Triple A to "open" classification, a league must have an aggregate population of 10,000,000, a total park capacity of 10,000, no salary limit and an average attendance of 2,500,000 over the past five years.

to the national organization by December 31.

Lauds Hospital Service

Mrs. Simmons commended the women on the assistance they had given to hospitals, especially in the sewing department of these institutions. "The rehabilitation program is yours," she announced, with the hope that individual units continue their cooperation with the auxiliary.

More than 100 members attended the dinner which opened with the singing of "O Holy Night," by the group, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Hartzell at the piano. Adams, Franklin, Fulton and York counties were represented. There was a board meeting at 10:30 a.m. and a business session at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Anna Pryor, council president, presided over the meetings and the banquet. During the regular meeting reports were submitted by Mrs. Hartzell, department national security sub-chairman, and also by Mrs. C. Arthur Brame, Sr., radio and press department sub-chairman. $50 was voted by the council for the Veterans' Christmas gift fund.

Honor Local Women

Mrs. Harvey Dickert, president of the local auxiliary, was presented with a corsage. She welcomed the members and guests and extended thanks to the Mothers' class of St. James church, which prepared and served the dinner.

Miss Eva McClellan, central director, thanked the women for their cooperation and also for the corsage which was a gift from the council. Registrations were in charge of Mrs. Edith Bushman and Mrs. Paul Springer.

Money pledged for the president's project will be used to help rebuild a dormitory at Scotland school which was damaged by fire a short time ago. Contributions were also urged for the upkeep of the Keystone Girls' camp, which "encourages young girls to develop into good Americans." Mrs. Painter also discussed the American Legion Junior baseball program and requested that contributions for this project be increased next year.

Distribute Gifts

Mrs. Erle Deardorff and Mrs. Morris Gitlin, in charge of the gift committee, distributed holiday packages after the dinner. The guest drawing was won by Mrs. Edwin Baker, Mercersburg. She was presented with the table centerpiece, a white reindeer, candle and pine-cone arrangement, presented to the Auxiliary by Murray's Greenhouse. Mrs. Painter was given a corsage and a cookie jar in the form of a train by the Gettysburg unit and the council respectively.

Table decorations consisted of red and white candles and multi-colored Christmas balls arranged among sprigs of pine. A candy cane favor was placed at each plate.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh. Delegates from Gettysburg were Mrs. Samuel Palmer, Mrs. N. L. Minter, Mrs. Gervus Myers, Mrs. Edith Bushman, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Morris Gitlin and Mrs. Emma Mundorff.

The affair was concluded with the singing of the Pennsylvania state song. The next meeting will be held March 6 in Hanover.

Lightweight Title Shot Is At Stake

New York, Dec. 7 (P)—A possible lightweight title shot will be the prize tonight when featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and lightweight contender Paddy De Marco mix it up in their rubber match at Madison Square Garden.

Slashing Sandy, upset by De Marco on August 27, was rated an 8 to 5 favorite to capture the non-title ten rounder. The 10 p.m. (EST) bout will be telecast by NBC and broadcast by ABC.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Local Elks Hold Memorial Services: "Benefits of Memory" was the theme of the address given by the Rev. Spencer W. Augst, who was the guest speaker at the annual memorial services of the Gettysburg lodge, 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held Sunday afternoon at the Elks' home.

Donald H. Hershey, exalted ruler, presided. Arrangements for the services were in charge of H. T. Jennings, committee chairman.

Seven members of the lodge died during the year. They were George E. Shields, Edward S. Peters, C. E. Stahl, Esq., David J. Forney, the Rev. A. A. Hughes, Charles H. Wilson and Bert G. Shook.

Hemler — Gastley: Paul Simon Hemler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hemler, 415 Baltimore street, and Mary Elizabeth Gastley, daughter of Mrs. Frances Gastley, 51 Munnasburg street, were united in marriage Saturday, November 28, by the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass at 7:30 o'clock in the morning in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

The attendants were Lloyd McGlaughlin and Mrs. Francis Hemler. Eckert — Shoap: Miss Anna E. Shoap, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Earl W. Shoap, of Guernsey, and Edwin A. Eckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eckert, also of Guernsey, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the United Brethren parsonage by the bride's father. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Georgia, they will occupy an apartment at "Loma Vista," Guernsey.

Will Move Monday: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lauer will move Monday from the Storm apartment, York street, to the apartment recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seacrist in Biglerville. Mr. Lauer recently purchased the Wayside garage, Aspers.

2 New Scout Troops Here: With the formation of Boy Scout troops Nos. 74 and 79 under the sponsorship of the Gettysburg Lions club, the number of working scout troops in Gettysburg has been increased to six and Boy Scout enrollment in the York-Adams area raised above 1,500 members.

Troop 74 is the first troop of colored Boy Scouts that was ever formed in Gettysburg. Dr. Louis B. King is scoutmaster. Troop 74 is composed of James Thomas, Lewis Myers, Chas. Myers, John Myers, George Timbers, Samuel Stanton, Francis Carter, Ernest Carter, Walter Dorsey, George Washington, Robert Johnson, Joseph Penn, Adam Myers and Oliver Carter.

Robert E. Berkheimer is scoutmaster of Troop 79, which includes Fred Crouse, William Dubbs, Harry Fouk, Charles Fridinger, Jay McGlaughlin, Charles Smith, Henry Steiniger, Jack Dubbs, Dale Dear-dorf, Earl Crouse, George Kitzmiller, Clyde Keefe, Donald Smyser, Harold Worthington, Clarence McClellan and Earl Swope.

10th Furniture Show Opens at Factories Here: The tenth semi-annual preview showing of the new 1957 "Gettysburg Group" lines of furniture in the show rooms in the first block of York street, attracted the largest attendance of buyers in the history of the event. An estimate was made that 125 prospective buyers visited the display in the opening days. The preview will continue up to December 10.

King Edward Plans to Keep Throne, Wally: London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Britain's king, confronted with an ultimatum to give up his throne or the American-born Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, stood firm Thursday night in his decision to retain both. Twice closeted with Queen Mary, before and after a 50-minute argument with Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, the strong-willed monarch gave the empire one of the most anxious days in the history of the British throne.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

STILLNESS

Stillness is one of the great assets of this life. I like that phrase from the Bible where it says: "Be still, and know that I am God." And there is another favorite line from David's Twenty-third Psalm: "He leadeth me beside the still waters."

In the stillness of the night there is space for thought and meditation, for prayer, and for a new appraisal of values. In the noise and confusion of moving multitudes, in the streets and highways, and among crowds, we lose our identity. Our nerves are tensioned and assaulted as though they were our enemies instead of what they were meant to be—our bodily friends.

No medicine is so effective as stillness, especially in the world of nature—upon a quiet night beside a still stream or body of water, or under a star lighted sky. There are those who have become so habituated to noise and confusion that stillness bothers them, and they grow restless under its actual soothing influence.

But what a boon to the mind, the heart, and the whole body, is selective stillness. In which there is taken time to think, to review life, to relax, and to seek the peace that we all crave so much when needed. Doctor Stillness never sends in a bill! His service is free—and with gratitude that you searched him out.

What a gratifying stillness settles about a place after a great storm. Thornton Wilder once wrote that "We can only be said to be alive in those moments when our hearts are conscious of our treasure." It is at times of stillness that the treasures of this earth float before our eyes, as they do to the navigator of a ship in the air when he looks upon the stars as "the frozen glitter of diamonds."

Stillness makes us lift the shades to our heart so that the full light of hope, faith, and assurance may stream in to give us newness of spirit, blotting out all fear and anxiety—the world itself made new to us.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Popularity."

Just Folks

THE INEVITABLE
This the living must have learned:
All who come to earth must leave.

None from death has ever earned
More than just a brief reprieve.

All who live are outward bound.
Pilgrims through the years we go.

When and where the call will sound
None has been allowed to know.

Now we should prepare for grief,
Since the living bear it must.
Only by a firm belief
Death is right and God is just.

The Rev. Dr. Augustus Pohlman was the speaker at services each evening this week in St. James Lutheran church here, which were attended by the St. James and Christ Lutheran congregations.

Other services in Gettysburg were held at the Presbyterian church, the Methodist church, Trinity Evangelical Reformed church and the United Brethren church.

FREE MEDICAL SERVICE MAY BE INVESTIGATED

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) wants the accounts of state hospitals showing deficits because of free medical service to be investigated by state police.

At least $1,854,207 in due bills was "written off" by these hospitals in the last biennium, Yosko said. He said this was only a partial total.

"Medical service at state hospitals is used as nothing more than political patronage," the Northampton Democrat declared, adding that he would introduce a resolution later calling for a state police investigation.

Yosko said persons needing medical attention have the work done at a state hospital then have a "political fix it up by having the bill written off."

Blame Revenue Agents

He said revenue agents at the hospitals are responsible for the "writing off." Members of the board of trustees of the various hospitals also are "disgusted with this practice," he said.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) termed Yosko's charges "certainly an exaggeration." "As long as we have state hospitals, people will go to them when they don't have the money for medical service," Wagner said. "You can't say that there is something rotten in Denmark if it is populated with persons who don't have the money to pay hospital bills."

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) said Yosko's call for an investigation should include not only the hospitals but also the doctors who collect fees on patients getting free service from the state.

Sad Tale About The Garoo; Stole Corn, Now He's Thru

By ED CREAUGH

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—If you need something to worry about today, you might wring your hands over the sad plight of the garoo.

The garoo is a large, in fact a very large, white bird. He stands almost five feet tall and has a wing spread of more than seven feet. He's also known as the white crane, the great white crane and the whooping crane. It's a fact that he does whoop, and rather alarmingly.

His problem is that he's about to become extinct.

"There aren't many of them left and it looks as if they're going to die out entirely," said Dr. Herbert Friedmann, curator of birds at the Smithsonian Institution.

Howard On Exhibition
Friedmann comes into the picture because his department is about to put one of the last of the garoos on exhibition, as soon as the taxidermist gets through with it.

This particular garoo was named Howard. He died about two weeks ago, of a gunshot wound plus a slight case of food poisoning, at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast.

Until Howard went hence, only 32 garoos had been counted at Aransas. And, so far as the experts know, that's all the garoos there were left. There were untold thousands of them in the days of the early settlers.

Trouble Is, They Stole Corn
In those days garoos could be seen all along the Atlantic coast, and as far west as Colorado and Idaho. Some early residents of the Carolinas claimed they used to make pets of the garoos, teaching them to eat frogs in gardens. You know how some people stretch the truth, though.

The garoos got in trouble with the Indians, and later the white settlers, by stealing corn. Naturally, the corn-growers shot them. The practice caught on and people have been shooting garoos ever since, in spite of the best efforts of bird-watchers and others to prevent it.

Garoos lay only two eggs at a time and that is no way for a shrinking species to multiply.

MONKEY IN TREE BRINGS BEDLAM

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP)—A monkey in a tree in Ben Grenald's yard was what started the whole thing.

Policeman John Ward was dancing around under the tree trying to lure the monkey down with bananas. It was such a funny sight, Grenald's wife, Selma, called him up at his drug store and told him to come home and see it.

"It's a riot," she said. "You'll die." It was after all the neighborhood kids gathered around, whooping and laughing, that the Grenald boy—two-year-old Douglas—got into the red ant hill. Grenald dunked him in a tub to wash the ants off.

Then they went back to watch the monkey—and that's when the house caught fire. Mrs. Grenald had left a pan of grease on the stove. It set fire to the curtains and woodwork.

Grenald put out the fire, but the smoke made him sick. The maid got sick, too, and went home.

The rags they had used to clean up the mess were put in the washing machine. One of the kids opened the door of the machine. That was how the house was flooded.

There was four inches of water in the kitchen before it was noticed. Then somebody discovered that the monkey was gone. Nobody ever knew what became of that monkey. But he surely was a scream.

Pearl Harbor

Day, is an assistant track supervisor for the Pennsylvania Railroad in Philadelphia. He lives in Ambler, a Philadelphia suburb.

Like Tyler, he's married and has a son and a daughter. He doesn't care much for talking about the old days—especially Pearl Harbor Day.

"My memories of Pearl Harbor are not happy," he says. Lockard's recollection differs somewhat from Tyler's. He has said previously that the lieutenant, when informed of the approaching aircraft, told him to "forget it."

Just "Bewildered"

Elliott, 33, is married and has one son. He does clerical work for the New Jersey Bell Telephone company at Asbury Park, N. J., and lives in nearby Long Branch.

Thinking back to Dec. 7, 1941, and the "large flight of planes" that showed up on the radar screen, Elliott says he was just plain bewildered—"it didn't seem possible."

"I think the United States would be more alert now. I hope we're not falling down on the job," he added.

Does he look for anything like another Pearl Harbor in the future? "Looks like things are repeating themselves, so to speak," said ex-Pvt. George Elliott, 10 years after.

Sunday School Lesson

By

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

MOSES' CHARGE TO THE PEOPLE

Deuteronomy 30:15-20; 31:1-3; 33:27-29a.

Memory Selection: The eternal God is thy dwelling-place, and underneath are the everlasting arms. Deuteronomy 33:27.

Knowing that he was drawing near to the close of his life Moses delivered several addresses to the assembled Israelites. The addresses compose the book of Deuteronomy, a word which means "Repetition of the Law" or "The Second Law." In his addresses Moses reviewed the past and restated the laws which he, inspired by God, had given. A new generation had arisen since Mt. Sinai. The people were living under new conditions and were facing new prospects. The laws had to be applied, in some measure, to changed circumstances. But the Ten Commandments stood, and were repeated with emphasis. In chapter 32 is found the impressive "Song of Moses." Our lesson is then taken from the closing chapters of the book.

Moses in Review

On the frieze of many a modern stately court house Moses' name appears first among men noted for their ability in law. He is also first among the notable leaders in Hebrew history. Consequently, it is well to study his life and observe the qualities which made him great among all men. This can be done thoroughly only by more extended study than one lesson will permit. But certain qualities can be mentioned which were basic in this great career. They are well known and when faithfully applied yield beneficial results in any age.

Loved His People

Trained in the Egyptian court life Moses was headed for a high station in that government, perhaps the office of prime minister. But he threw his lot with a slave people. And the affection he had for them was seen at numerous times. Even when God's patience was strained by the faithlessness of His chosen people, Moses was found, face to the ground and in real anguish, pleading mercy for his charges. Their sins were his burden; their welfare his constant concern. Let men note this, but especially men in public life. There was no trace of self-seeking in the life of this leader.

Moses relied on God. So close did he live with his Maker that he claimed to speak for Him, without offensive presumption. He tried not to be appointed by God to lead Israel out of its degradation. But once he heard the Divine word, "I am with thee," he took courage and taking God at His word assumed the staggering task. The thought reminds us of the growing sense in our own perilous times that God must be taken more confidently into all our councils. For, as in that far off day, there is still set before us "life and good, and death and evil." The present and the future belong to men of courage founded upon faith in God. Let all men in their various callings match the trials of the day by the confidence of Moses.

There was unyielding determination in the make up of God's chosen leader. Men of lesser stature would have despaired. The difficulties experienced often seemed unsurmountable as they confronted Moses at every turn in the road. In addition to faith and courage he always had the goal in view. His people and he were headed for Canaan, a most desirable land; and above all for freedom with God their only Master. Although for some time he knew that he himself would not enter that good country Moses was resolved that his people should have that good fortune. He had a vision of what would be and steadfastly kept it in view. That also is a trait of greatness. Anyone may follow that example. Anyone can have a vision of his own better self, a personal Canaan. Also any generation, like the present, can strive towards goals that may be attained only by another. But the striving (Please Turn to Page 6)

QUARRELS

People don't always see eye to eye. We have differences of opinion ... clashing aims ... conflicting views. And what can we do about them?

Primitive man settled his quarrels with a club or spear. And modern man isn't above using tanks and planes and battleships to settle his.

But there is a better way! It involves sacrifice, forgiveness, and a large measure of brotherly love. But it leads to happiness and peace.

Yes, it's about time the world began using this better way.

By going to Church this Sunday you won't solve every problem the world faces. But you will find a better solution to your own problems. And you'll find God ... Who alone can show all humanity the Way to peace and lasting happiness.

Choose your Church—and use your Church—regularly!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

WHAT PROGRESS
10 YEARS AFTER
PEARL HARBOR?

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 7 (AP) — What progress have we made as a people since the Japanese attacked us at Pearl Harbor 10 years ago today?

One thing stands out: "We've reached maturity by assuming the responsibility of world leadership—through necessity, not through choice. We acted to save our own skins, first against fascism, later against communism."

It meant abandoning an isolationism which was valid only so long as the world was simpler than it is now. But the alternative was clear: If we remained aloof our allies would disappear under the heels of the enemy until we stood alone with 150,000,000 people against 2,000,000,000. It would be a little difficult to stand alone long.

Still, in assuming the leadership we solved no problem. We have only begun to tackle it, for we did not take over the capitanity of a vital and vigorous non-Communist world. At least half of it, western Europe, is exhausted. We must try not only to breathe life into it but even the desire to live. We may fail, of course, and for various reasons:

Decay Goes Deep
The roots of decay—political, economic and social—may be so deep in us that ruin is inevitable anyway; or maybe our leadership has been too little or too late or too shoddy.

Until the story is finished we must operate on the opposite assumption: That communism is not progress but reaction, stumbling back to the Middle Ages, out of time and place and bound to die.

At the end of World War I we could have accepted responsibility as a No. 1 power, which we were but didn't understand, by joining the League of Nations. With our help, it might have kept the world steady. Without us, the league became a joke for Hitler.

Communism was only an eyesore then. It was fascism, not communism, which became the aggressive menace.

This country tortured itself between two central ideals. Should we become an active force on the side of free Europe, bolstering its will to resist fascism?

Or should we retain our splendid isolation, as some thought, turning our faces aside from the spectacle of agony and tyranny which lay ahead for those western Europeans who were our spiritual brothers?

Wrong In Disarming
All Europe, except Britain, was gone before we really began to arm. In rearming we insisted upon business-as-usual, an invitation to disaster which overtook us 10 years ago today at Pearl Harbor. Overnight we took leadership.

When victory came our allies climbed back out of the cellar of history. Together with them we created the United Nations. This time we joined. Our isolation seemed over. Not quite.

We disarmed, thinking Russia would quiet. We were wrong in disarming and wrong about Russia. And we were slow in other things.

We didn't get the big economic help for Europe, the Marshall Plan, underway until 1947. By then communism had taken eastern Europe.

It wasn't until the shock of Czechoslovakia—when the iron curtain clanged down over it in 1948—that we set up a military alliance, the Atlantic treaty.

Still, the shock of Korea in the summer of 1950 was needed to make this country realize time was running out and it had to arm faster.

We're still not rearming as fast as we could. We still like business-as-usual. Is this a repetition of the mistake before Pearl Harbor? We'll find out if there's another Pearl Harbor.

Falcon Island in the South Pacific disappears at intervals of years without regard for geographers. The scientific explanation is that Falcon Island is produced by intermittent eruptions of an underwater volcano.

GAMBLES ON STAMP
Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP) — The Internal Revenue Bureau here now has 11 applications for the new federal gambling stamps—but one of them came from a stamp collector. The philatelist wrote Collector George T. McGowan: "I am no gambler and I would like this stamp for philatelic purposes. x x x I would gamble that this stamp will be a prize collector's item some day."

BILL TO POST NAMES PASSES

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—A bill requiring the public posting of names of persons on relief in Pennsylvania headed for the House today after weathering stormy Democratic opposition in the Senate.

The bill was passed by a 34-9 vote by the upper chamber last night after some Democrats sought to amend it to limit the postings only to able-bodied persons between 18 and 14.

The measure requires that the names of all persons receiving public assistance of any type be listed on rolls posted once every three months in each county courthouse in the commonwealth.

The Republicans voted solidly for the measure while Democrats split on the issue. Democrats from Allegheny and Philadelphia counties, along with Sens. William J. Lane (D-Washington) and John J. Hulska (D-Cambria), voted against the measure. Sen. Bernard J. McGinnis (D-Allegheny) told the Senate the bill was "not needed."

"The public assistance program in Pennsylvania is administered well. They have the toughest job of any department in the state," he declared.

However, Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny), Senate GOP floor leader, denied McGinnis' contention. He termed the measure a "step in the direction of cutting down this problem."

Itself will be rewarded by an all-seeing God. Keep your Canaan in view.

The future leadership of Israel centered Moses. Joshua in a way, had been his understudy and was now given command. It will be interesting to follow his career. So, a life replete with drama and helpful example came to a dramatic end. A giant of faith and achievement climbed Mount Pisgah to meet his God. And his parting word was of assurance: "The eternal God is your refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

- Questions
1. What was Moses' last task?
  2. How is he classified?
  3. What were his chief attributes?
  4. Who was his successor?

- Answers
1. To restate God's laws.
  2. The greatest Hebrew.
  3. Love and faith.
  4. Joshua.

Reading Area Bus Drivers End Strike

Reading, Dec. 7 (AP)—A strike of bus drivers which halted public transport in Reading and Lebanon for five weeks has come to an end. The drivers voted last night to go back to work, their union having accepted terms of a new contract.

Mayor John F. Davis, who announced that the strike was over, said buses are rolling again in both cities this morning.

Under the contract, the drivers will receive a 13-cent hourly wage increase, 10 cents of which is retroactive to June 30, when the old contract expired. An additional four cents an hour will be granted the drivers next June.

The contract, which runs until June 30, 1953, provides also for a pension program in which employees will for the first time contribute a share.

Women's Guild At Meeting Wednesday

"A New Song That Is Old" was the topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Christ Reformed church Wednesday evening at the church. The meeting opened with the scripture reading and prayer offered by Mrs. G. Howard Koons, leader for the evening. Group singing was held with Mrs. LeRoy Berwager as piano accompanist. A vocal solo, "Away in a Manger," was sung by Nancy Koons, followed with a poem, "Why Do Bells for Christmas Ring," by Evelyn Koons. A Christmas story was told in song and verse with the following members participating: Mrs. Irvin Markle, Mrs. Harvey W. Schwartz, Mrs. Mervin L. Myers, Mrs. Gerald A. Sterner, Mrs. Clair Markle, Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker and Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager. The discussion of the topic was led by Mrs. Koons with members assisting. Routine business was conducted with the president, Mrs. Orville C. Sentz, presiding. The next regular meeting of the Guild will be held Wednesday, January 2, 7:30 p.m. at the church. The leader for the January session will be announced later.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my many neighbors and friends for the lovely cards, flowers and kindnesses shown during my recent illness and stay in the Community General Hospital, Reading, Pa.

MRS. STEVEN SVARNAS

In Memoriam

SPEELMAN: In memory of my dear beloved husband, Griff Speelman, who passed away December 7, 1949, two years ago today. Gone but not forgotten. Nor will you ever be. God knew best. He took you home to rest. I cannot say and will not say that he is dead. He is just away. With a cheery smile. And a wave of the hand. He has wandered into an unknown land. Think of him as the same I say. He is not dead. He is just away. Sadly missed by his wife, Ethel, and children.

There on the Floor Were Two Tiny Creatures Dressed in Gold and Looking as Cross as Could Be.

SYNOPSIS: Tommy Lump goes with Belinda to see her Poppy in the department store. Poppy promises to sneak of Mr. Lump about having Christmas in the house. But the mean Mr. Lump calls the police and has Poppy arrested.

CHAPTER FOUR BELINDA HAS VISITORS

Mr. Lump thought Poppy had kidnapped Tommy Lump. He told the police and it did look bad for Poppy because there was with the boy's hand in his. The police arrested Poppy dressed as he was in red Santa suit with a red stocking cap dangling gaily over one ear.

It was a strange and awful sight to see a Santa Claus led off to prison.

Belinda and Tommy followed Mr. Lump into the house. "He didn't steal me," cried Tommy. "I ran away!"

"You were lured away!" stormed Mr. Lump. "This girl tricked you into meeting that man disguised as a Santa Claus."

"That's not true!" exclaimed Belinda. "My father wanted to make him happy. Anyway he was bringing him home!"

"He was coming to make me pay money for him!" roared Mr. Lump. "Now you leave this house. It's a pity the police won't arrest children."

"Get out of here!" Mr. Lump jerked his arms angrily and flung Belinda away. Tommy burst into tears as Belinda stumbled forward and fell against Mr. Lump's desk. "Oh!" she cried, getting to her feet.

She took something from her mouth and then, without a word, she rushed out of the house and ran all the way home.

Not until she was safe in her own room did she open her fist and gaze at the tooth in the palm of her hand.

Tears brimmed in her eyes. "Just a little while ago everything was so lovely," she thought. "Now Poppy's in jail and there's no Santa Claus at the store and Tommy won't ever have a Christmas and on top of everything else I've lost my very best tooth."

But Poppy had taught her that crying never fixed anything and so she washed her eyes, put on her coat and went to visit Poppy in jail.

"We've had all kinds of people in this jail," joked the guard. "But this is the first time we've had Santa Claus."

"Oh, Poppy," cried Belinda, seeing her father behind bars, "whatever shall we do?"

Poppy smiled. "Don't worry. The police will get things straightened out."

"But how long will it take, Poppy?"

"A while, I guess. It did look bad for me, you know."

"But Poppy! What about Christmas and the store and Tommy?"

"Things will have to work out," said Poppy looking sad and tired.

The guard told Belinda it was time to go. Before she left Poppy said, "I see you've lost a tooth. Don't forget to put it under your pillow. The tooth fairies will take care of you tonight."

Of course Belinda knew it was a joke. But, just the same, when she went to bed that night she did what Poppy told her. She wrapped the little tooth in tissue paper and hid it under her pillow.

Then she lay there in the dark. She was frightened and lonesome. "I just mustn't cry," she told herself. "I've got to think of something to do."

Presently she felt something move on her bed. She decided it was the blanket sliding off. "I just can't sleep," she said out loud and turned with a great sigh to the other side of the bed.

"Oh, gracious!" screamed a tiny voice. "I'm falling off!"

Belinda sprang right out of bed, tossing the covers in a heap on the floor. Her heart pounded and her hands shook as she turned on the light. There was nothing at all unusual to be seen. She began to think she had been dreaming when suddenly she saw two funny little bumps moving under the blanket she had thrown to the floor.

"How do you get out of here?" moaned a muffled voice. "Hello! Help!" screamed another voice. "The roof has fallen in!"

Belinda leaned over and picked up the blanket. There on the floor were two tiny creatures, boy and girl, dressed all in gold and looking as cross as could be.

"Well!" they snapped as they glared at Belinda. "You were supposed to be asleep!"

FREED PRELATE DETERMINED TO RETAIN OFFICE

Krasic, Yugoslavia, Dec. 7 (AP) — Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac grimly asserted his right to the title of archbishop today and said his release from prison changed his situation "only slightly."

The Roman Catholic primate of Yugoslavia revealed that conditions of his release by Premier Marshal Tito's government included a ban on his performing the duties of an archbishop and confined him to this tiny Croatian village where he was born.

But in an interview, Msgr. Stepinac firmly declared Thursday: "I am the legitimate archbishop and I am not a former archbishop. If the Pope wants it, I am ready to quit my archbishopric, but I will never give it up to government pressure."

Did Not Ask Release
(In Rome, Vatican circles took quick exception to the conditions of the prelate's release and declared "no civil authority" could oust him from his place as spiritual head of Yugoslav Catholicism.)

The archbishop said he had not asked for the conditional release from Lepoglava prison granted him yesterday.

He had served five years of a 16-year sentence imposed in November, 1946, after his conviction on charges of collaborating with the Nazi occupiers of his country. He denied the charge, leveled against him two years before Yugoslavia broke with the Russians.

Msgr. Stepinac said today major issues between the church and Tito's Communist government are "not yet settled."

"Honest Agreement"
"There must be an agreement based on honesty and the essential conditions demanded by the Catholic church," he said.

"These include church marriages, religious education in the schools and a free Catholic press. Church marriage must be defended to the last breath, for it is a sacrament established by the Good Lord and man has no right to change it."

The 53-year-old high churchman indicated he is willing to live the rest of his life as a simple parish priest in the church where he was baptized soon after his birth to a Croatian peasant family in the Krasic parish. The 400-year-old church dominates the village of peasant homes and farm buildings.

Msgr. Stepinac appeared in excellent health.

Under terms of his release, the archbishop is forbidden to issue pastoral letters, advising his followers on public or personal conduct, or to issue public statements. He may leave Krasic only with the permission of the Croatian minister of interior.

But he will be permitted to preach sermons in church and it is believed he will be completely free to receive any visitors.

There was no effort to stop correspondents from visiting the village today and no policemen were stationed at the church or parish house.

SENATOR ASKS LITTLE HOOVER UNIT IN STATE

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—A plan for a special "Little Hoover" commission with broad powers to check on commonwealth finances drew Senate attention today.

A bill setting up a nine-member state government study commission was introduced in the upper chamber Wednesday by Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland).

Findings and recommendations of the commission would be submitted to the 1953 General Assembly for action.

Wade said his plan was approved by the Senate Republican caucus in conjunction with caucus approval of a compromise tax package.

The Cumberland county Republican declared that a "clear picture of the financial situation of the state of Pennsylvania is badly needed."

Governor To Name Group
The nine members of the commission, all to be named by the governor, would include two senators, two representatives and five citizens not holding public office.

An appropriation of $100,000 to finance the work of the commission also is provided in Wade's bill.

The commission would have authority to examine department records, hold public or private hearings and issue subpoenas.

More specifically its assignment would be to "study the executive branch of the government of the commonwealth with a view toward recommending more efficient and economical methods of providing present state services."

Wade said the need for such a study is pointed up by the fact that Pennsylvania's budget has risen from $570 million in the 1939-41 biennium to a billion dollars-plus today.

Compensation For Firemen Is Deferred

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP) — A bill granting workmen's compensation benefits to volunteer firemen contracting heart and lung ailments as a result of their duties was back in a Senate committee today apparently to die.

The measure was recommended to the local government committee by a Senate vote of 21-15 Wednesday. Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington) strongly objected to the action.

"Volunteer firemen in Pennsylvania perform a service that could not be repaid," Lane said in a brief speech. "They deserve this protection."

The vote to recommit was along party lines with Republicans favoring the action.

TO CHALLENGE
SOME PROBERS
IN BRIBE QUIZ

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) disclosed Thursday he may challenge the right of "some senators" to sit on a special Senate committee investigating his charges that he was offered a bribe to vote for the income tax.

He told a newsman he will discuss the matter with his counsel, former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, before taking any action at a public hearing, tentatively set to start next week.

He did not name the senators whose status he may challenge. And the Cambria county senator has parried all questions as to whether one or more of his colleagues made the alleged offer of a bribe.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), named chairman of the 10-man committee, said the committee will, in the meantime, work out a system of procedure to be adopted for the hearing, the first of its kind by the Legislature in 10 years.

The committee of five Republicans and five Democrats will review its power of subpoena and similar matters.

Named to the committee late yesterday by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Senate president pro tempore, were Sens. Berger, John M. Walker (Allegheny), T. Newell Wood (Luzerne), Albert R. Pechan (Armstrong), all Republicans; John H. Dent (Westmoreland); Joseph M. Barr (Allegheny); Samuel G. Neff (Beaver); Eustace Bane (Fayette) and John F. Byrne (Phila.).

In another development, Haluska made public a letter he received from a Philadelphia saying he had heard another member of the Legislature was offered a bribe to vote for the discarded income tax bill.

The letter, signed by a John Wilson, Philadelphia, said in part:

"One member of the General Assembly informed me and three others that he was offered a $5,000-a-year job, if he would cast his vote for the state income tax."

The Young Men's Christian association was founded in London in 1844 by George Williams.

ITALY MARKS
1ST CHRISTMAS

Rome, Dec. 7 (AP)—It was easy to get Italian children out of bed Thursday morning. The bountiful of the covers to see what was in their stockings on the day of St. Nicholas, the feast of Italy's three Christmas-tide gift-givers.

Toys, candy and dried fruit filled most of the stockings. Other presents lay on large plates, carefully placed near the stockings at bedtime last night.

Most of the kids have been carefully obedient the last few days so St. Nicholas wouldn't forget them. Bad children, legends say, find charcoal and broom straws in their stockings.

St. Nicholas was a bishop of Myra, in what is now Turkey, about 1700 years ago. To save his tomb from profanation by the unfaithful, Italian sailors smuggled his body to Italy and placed it in a cathedral crypt.

The saint became the protector of school children, sailors, merchants and travellers. Many Italians celebrate his feast day with more gifts than they give at Christmas.

But children who have been good may expect more gifts on Christmas morning, and still more for the feast of Epiphany — the last of Italy's three traditional Christmas celebrations — on Jan. 6.

The weekly Appreciation Day programs will be held on Saturday evening in front of the Record shop, South Queen street. The first program will be held at 8 o'clock and the second program at 9 o'clock. The event is sponsored by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with a majority of the local merchants.

Urge Home Owners To Enter Contest

"Help beautify Littlestown this Christmas time by means of decoration and lights" is requested of local residents by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees are sponsoring again this year a Christmas decorating contest. Harold O. Sontz, chairman of the contest committee, has stated that "the affair will provide pleasure for anyone participating." Cash prizes will be offered to the winners. The type of decoration has been divided into three classifications as follows: Decorating entire house, first prize $30, second, $20 and third, $10; decorating both windows and doorways, $20, $12.50 and $7.50; arranging special outstanding features, $20, $12.50 and $7.50.

Contest entry blanks have been distributed throughout the community. It is hoped that many residents will show their interest in the affair by returning the blanks not later than Thursday, December 20, to Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, c/o Harold O. Sontz, Littlestown R. 2. Only residents of the borough are eligible, not including business establishments and members of the committees. Names of the judges and the date of judging will be announced later. A booklet on "Decorating the Home" may be received free of charge by writing to Radio Station WBAL, Baltimore, Md.

Eagles' Auxiliary Plans Activities

Mrs. Mary Ayers, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, presided at the first December meeting on Wednesday evening, at the Eagles home, West King street.

It was announced that the auxiliary charter has been received and will be framed. The charter, with the names of the 72 members on it, will be placed in the meeting room. The group decided to postpone the public party, previously scheduled, until after the holidays.

The annual Christmas turkey banquet for the members of the auxiliary, the aerie and their guests will be held Monday, December 17, 5:30 to 10:30 p.m., at the Eagles' home, and the ladies are asked to assist with the affair. The president, Mrs. Ayers; vice president, Mrs. Claire Jacoby; secretary, Mrs. Annabelle Ohler, and chairman of the membership committee, Mrs. Marguerite Koontz, spoke briefly concerning the proceedings of the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliaries of P.O.E. groups in eastern Pennsylvania, held in Reading on Sunday afternoon, which they attended. The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday, December 19, at the Eagles' home. A Christmas party will be held and the members will bring $1 gifts for exchange.

HOST TO HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. Robert Gitt, Littlestown R. D., was hostess to the Frogtown Homemakers for the first December meeting on Wednesday evening. The meeting was in the form of a Christmas party. Members exchanged gifts and each one took along a favorite cookie or candy recipe for exchange. The homemakers also took along the food their recipe called for and the foods were sampled. Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics extension representative, was present, and she gave an interesting resume of her recent trip through Texas and Mexico. The meeting

Ribbon Cutting Opens New Road

closed with a social hour and refreshments were served to the group by the hostess. The next meeting of the homemakers will be held Wednesday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Fred Hartlaub, Gettysburg R. 5. The topic for discussion for the January session will be "Getting Children to Eat."

Littlestown Lions Vote May Donations

The semi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Lions club was held Thursday evening at Bankert's restaurant. A brief business session was held and the program omitted in favor of the Legion play "Crazy Daze," presented that evening in the local high school auditorium.

The club voted $15 to the Littlestown Woman's club welfare committee to help prepare Christmas baskets for the needy families of the community; $5 to the Adams County Tuberculosis society and $5 to the Guide Dog fund. The club will also contribute three gifts to the Child Welfare society of Adams county. It was announced that the annual

SENATE BREAKS LONG DEADLOCK ON TAX ISSUE

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Senate early today broke a nine-month deadlock on taxes by passing a 13 million compromise program. The weary senators disposed of the issue in less than a half hour during a special midnight session held then recessed until Monday. The tax package was returned to the House for concurrence in amendments.

Democrats opposed the bulk of the program, claiming it would provide twice the revenue actually needed to balance Gov. John S. Packer's $1,220,000,000 budget for the next two-year fiscal period. Only a stop-gap measure, they argued, would be in the tax bundle. One would need up collection of corporate net income taxes by reaching six months into 1953 for $61 million. The other would hike inheritance taxes by $8 million by increasing from 10 per cent to 15 per cent the levy on others than direct heirs.

The sole GOP senator to vote against any part of the tax program was Sen. Henry J. Propper (R-Montgomery) who cast a "no" ballot against the real estate transfers tax.

Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, conceded that the tax package was only a stop-gap until the 1953 Legislature gets down to broadening the commonwealth's tax structure to meet mounting state expenses.

Last Roadblock

The last remaining possible roadblock to solving the commonwealth's fiscal problem was House agreement to $32 million in appropriation cuts adopted by the Senate Republican caucus.

The appropriation cuts were the object of criticism by Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny), the only senator to vote against all of the bills in the tax package. "I am still convinced that a lot of fat can be taken out of the budget," he said.

Shortly before the tax vote, the Senate appropriations committee raised from $30 million to $32 million the amount of reductions in appropriations bills. The $2 million was chopped off the public assistance bill which previously had been shorn of $3 million. It now stands at $130 million.

If the House goes along with the appropriation cuts after it reconvenes Monday, the tax bills likely will reach the governor's desk by the end of next week. It also would practically assure that the lawmakers will meet their December 22 adjournment deadline.

Meanwhile, a special Senate investigating committee changed from Monday to Tuesday the date for opening public hearings on charges by Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) that he was offered a bribe to vote for the income tax.

10,000 Weather Observers Lauded

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The nation's 10,000 volunteer weather observers have been lauded by Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer for their patriotic service.

Sawyer made his commendation yesterday, timing it with publication of a volume entitled "The Cooperative Weather Observer" prepared by the Weather Bureau. Cited in the volume are 1,857 observers who have served voluntarily for more than 10 years. Ninety-one are from Pennsylvania.

Carlos P. Darling of Lawrenceville, who retired in May, 1950, after 52 years' service, leads the Pennsylvanians in seniority.

The commemorative book carries brief biographies of those who have served more than 20 years. Each weather observer will receive a copy and those with more than 40 years' service also will be sent a letter of commendation from Sawyer.

Cooperative weather observers operate stations at which they record high and low temperatures and rainfall. Working with standard gauges and thermometers provided by the Weather Bureau, each volunteer daily makes his readings and records them on a special form which he mails to the Weather Bureau section offices once a month.

LAST CITIZEN OF CANADIAN TOWN BURIED

Phoenix, B. C., Dec. 7 (AP)—The snow fell softly today on the freshly-dug earth covering the grave of Phoenix' last inhabitant.

William Henry Bambury was the last citizen of what was once Canada's highest city—a bustling mining town of five churches, 17 saloons, two railways, an opera house, three schools and 3,500 people. Phoenix boomed in 1899 and bustled in 1919. Two stayed.

One was a Belgian caretaker named Adolf Sereu who signed himself 4 Paw. For years 4 Paw paraded the city's rotting streets with a 30-30 rifle under his arm and a homemade badge on his chest. He died in 1942.

Buried Near Mine

The other who stayed was Bambury. He came to British Columbia from Portsmouth, England, to work on the Canadian Pacific. He arrived here in 1900 at the age of 33 to work as a carpenter.

He never left except for a few months in hard winters when he made his way to the hotel in the nearby mining town of Greenwood.

He did leave again, in October, to go to a hospital in Trail, B. C., but he returned. At his request he was buried in the cemetery on the hillside near the old copper mine's Glory Hole.

Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting company took 13,500,000 tons of copper ore out of Phoenix' mountains, which rise 25 miles north of the U. S. border and 300 miles east of Vancouver, B. C.

Copper Ore Ran Out

At 4,300 feet, Phoenix was the highest incorporated city in Canada. It disincorporated in 1919. The world's ski championships were once held here. After 1919, when the copper ore ran out, Phoenix emptied. One by one, houses fell down until today only one is left standing.

The first doctor here built that house and when everybody else left Bambury moved in. It is crammed with newspapers and magazines, old tins, salvaged lumber and buckets of rusty nails. The snow has sifted in through rattling windows and creaking doors. On the porch, Bambury had nailed a printed card which said simply: "Phoenix, B. C."

The wind whisked the card away after the old man was buried October 25. A new mound in the dilapidated cemetery of tottering and fallen gravestones is the only evidence that one man dreamed that the ghosts would leave Phoenix and men would come back.
